Jack Cudahy Figures In Sensational Episode.

POLICEMAN RESCUES VICTIM

Son of Wealthy Chicago Packer Excuses Turning Room In Palatial Residence Into Human Slaughter House on Grounds That Jere Lillis Had Broken Up His Home—Wealthy Society Man May Not Recover From Effects of Slashing.

Kansas City, March 7.—It is alleged that when John P. Cudahy, a wealthy packer and son of Michael Cudahy, the Chicago millionaire, found Jere F. Lillis, a millionaire hotel banker, in his home when he returned unexpectedly, committed an assault upon the man. He was arrested on a charge of disturbing the peace and was released on a $100 bond.

Lillis is in St. Mary's hospital. His condition is said to be critical. Cuts, said to have been inflicted with a knife, are on his face, legs and one arm. The cuts have been made in crisis-cross fashion. If he recovers he will be disfigured for life. It is averred by physicians before cutting Lillis, Cudahy is said to have bound him with a strong rope. One of Cudahy's chauffeurs was present. Neighbors heard Lillis screaming and groaning in the Cudahy home and they called the Westport police station. It was a woman who called her identity has not been established. "A man is being murdered in the Cudahy home. Send an officer there," she screamed.

Ten minutes later Patrolman Underwood hurried to the Cudahy home. Stepping into the hall, he heard screams coming from a parlor. Then came groans and cries for mercy. Underwood followed the direction of the sound and soon came to the room. It was brilliantly lighted.

Three men were in the room. Prostrate on the floor lay Lillis, half nude and bound with a rope. His few remaining clothes were bloody. Above him stood Cudahy. He was in correct evening dress, except that he wore no coat. His sleeves were rolled up. Blood was on his hands. At his side stood a chauffeur garbed in regulation leather cap and duster, as though he had come in the house after a hurried call and a run with his machine.

Didn't Notice Cop. None of the men noticed Underwood. Lillis groaned and tugged feebly at the cords that bound him. "Don't do it, Jack. Please don't do it," he pleaded.

Rushing over to the trio, Underwood addressed Cudahy. "What does this mean?" he queried. "He's ruined my home. He's ruined my home," said Cudahy, turning to the officer and making no attempt at resistance. "You're under arrest," said the officer. "All right, I'll go with you, but let me call my attorney before you take me to the station," replied Cudahy calmly.

"Call your attorney and I'll get an ambulance for this man," said the policeman.

"Who is he?" "It's Jere Lillis," Cudahy said over his shoulder as he walked toward a telephone.

After seeing that Lillis had been started to a hospital, the policeman took Cudahy to the police station. The packer gave a cash bond and was released. From the beginning to the end of the affair Mrs. Cudahy was not in evidence. Attempts to reach her have proved futile. Cudahy's attorneys admit the general facts in the case, but are unwilling to go into details.

A Dangerous Weapon. Two Irishmen were out hunting with one gun between them. The man with the gun saw a bird on a twig and took careful aim at it. "For the love of heaven, Mike," shouted the other hunter, "don't shoot! The gun ain't loaded." "I've got to," yelled Mike. "The bird won't wait!"—Saturday Evening Post.

A Political Economist. "It's due to this," "It's due to that." "It isn't due to either." "It's due to strikes." "It's due to trusts." "Nonsense! It's due to neither."

One says "It's all because the rich live at a pace too furious; Another, that the laboring man's Delights are too luxurious.

They're all off scent. The higher cost of food from oats to peas, so far as I can figure out, is due to higher prices.

Could Pump. "I understand you want a man to pump the organ?" said the applicant. "Yes, we do," replied the man in charge at the church. "What experience have you had?" "Well, I worked for a milkman for three years!"—Yonkers Statesman.

The Unpopular Verdict. Fellers, here's the verdict Which makes your anger stir: "He is purty high, But he fell purty fur!"

***The word "Canvassing."

How "canvassing" got its election significance is one of the unsolved puzzles of etymology. The word appears originally to have meant tossing in a canvas or blanket and thence generally misnaming or assaulting. "I'll canvass thee in thy broad cardinal's hat," is the Duke of Gloucester's threat to the bishop of Winchester in "King Henry VI." The next stage of meaning was that of destructive criticism, from which to thorough discussion—"canvassing" a subject—was a simple enough. But how exactly did it arrive at the election sense? Dr. Johnson explained that the term meant "trying votes previously to the decision" and derived it from "canvass," as it signifies a sieve. The Oxford Dictionary, however, is unable to find this use of the word.

SIR MARK'S HOTEL BILL

Relic of an Early Nineteenth Century Election in Ireland.
During the time of a contested election in Meath, Ireland, in the early part of the last century, Sir Mark Somerville sent orders to the proprietor of the hotel in Trim to board and lodge all that should vote for him, for which he received the following bill, which he got framed, and it still hangs in Somerville House, County Meath:
April 16th, 1826.

MY BILL.
To tenting sixteen freeholders above stairs for Sir Mark, at 3s 3d a head, is to me ..... 2 12 0
To eating sixteen more below stairs, at two guineas every bed, and not more than four in any bed at any time, cheap enough, God knows, is to me ..... 25 15 0
For breakfast on tray in the morning, for every one of them, and as many more as they brought in, as near as I can guess, is to me ..... 4 12 0
To raw whisky and punch, without talking of pipes and tobacco, as well as for breaking a pot above stairs and other glasses and delphs for the first day and night, I am not very sure, but for the three days and a half of the election as little as I can call it, and to be very exact it is in all or thereabouts as near as I can guess, and not to be too particular, is to me at least, 79 15 9
For shaving and cropping off the heads of fourteen freeholders for Sir Mark, at 13s for every head of them by my brother, who has a vote, is to me ..... 2 13 1
For a woman and nurse for poor Tom Korman, in the middle of the night, when he was not expected, is to me ..... 10 0 0
Signed in the place of Jenny Carr wife, his Mark X
Bryan and Geraghty's Mark X
You may say ill, so your honour Sir Mark send me the Eleven Hundred by Bryan himself, who and I pray for your success always in Trim, so no more at present.

The hotel keeper must have got weary as he neared the end of his long bill, for his account becomes as wabbly as some of his guests must have been when the crash of glass and delph accompanied their deep potation of raw whisky and punch.

Damascus of Marvellous View.
The view of Damascus from the mountain where Mohammed made his great renunciation is one of the marvellous views of the world. Again and again I deserted the mosques, the bazaars, the marble baths, the courts of the fountains, the shadowy khans and the gardens by the streams for that bare height on which Abraham is said to have had the unity of God revealed to him.—Robert Hichens in Century.

Imitation.

"Why, Gladys, you are spoiling your dolly."

"No, mamma; I am painting its cheeks with the same color that you use."—Judge.
